

September 27, 2025, 5:46am: I am writing again to document the ongoing use of vehicles near our home to start up a growling v8 engine which vibrates inside of my house as I am reading various news articles related to the Zorro Ranch where Epstein abused women and children.

This particular instance timed a v8 truck to start its powerful engine as I wrote about Solomon's Investor being recently arrested and charged with having a red walled sex dungeon - like the red walls found inside of Epstein's Zorro Ranch property.

The truck has immediately stopped idling without ever leaving the house. Now, that I write about it at 5:50, the truck is leaving the house and driving away. These are immediate responses as I perform work. When I write about a powerful person, a powerful truck starts. When I write about the truck not moving for several minutes, it immediately revs up and begins to drive off. This is a persistent an ongoing repetitive pattern that I am recording only one instance of in this writing.

The feelings that are going through my mind and body are nervous repulsion. This ongoing use of engines to drive constant messaging into our home is causing me to develop serious defensive bodily emotions against machines and engines of all sorts. I am developing an intense aversion to all types of machine engines and 'whirring' noises as they have been used to such a degree to cause me mental and physical distress in an ongoing and abusive manner.

I am recording these physical and mental symptoms of physical and emotional distress for use in the lawsuit that I am preparing against Elon Musk and Donald Trump along with their respective agencies. I am writing these words as an intentional and accurate description of the ongoing damages that I am personally experiencing. These physical symptoms are causing shaking in my hands, anger in my mind, and have also resulted in recent unnecessary tensions between my wife and I for numerous reasons that are directly related to this ongoing abuse that we are experiencing from the spies within our government.

One of the rooms appears to be decorated like the Wild, Wild West, with a chandelier adorned with pistols and stars. On the back wall are black and white photos of various people and tepees

More vehicles are continuing to advance around us now as I write about these symptoms. An ongoing effect has been to multiply and advance every effort that I admit has caused me harmful emotions. The intentions are clearly being expressed from the Donald Trump and Elon Musk criminal conspiracy to cause harm to me personally by using their spying capabilities and a team of criminals that they move around our home on the ground to constantly drive messaging of threatening intimidation into our house.

This is the true sprit of Donald Trump and Elon Musk as they post religious messages on their image to the world - as if they respect and honor the suffering of Jesus. Meanwhile, they use their access to our government and the billions of dollars that it produces to cause me harm in my small 2 bedroom house in San Antonio, Texas.

One of the bedrooms has a sculpture of a life-sized Jesus crucified on a golden cross, which covers most of one wall and is attached by chains to the crown molding
